

IXL IMRA Response

IXL appreciates the dedication of the IMRA staff and SBOE to providing Texas educators and students with high-quality materials. Through the IMRA process, the IXL team has developed a greater understanding of what Texas wants in its programs and we have made numerous improvements as a result. The quality rubric covers a wide range of ways that supplemental and core programs can support students and teachers. There were a few areas where IXL did not achieve perfect scores, such as rubric items related to class discussions and extensive language supports, and we feel this is because that type of support is better suited for a core program or a different style of supplemental program
